Fellow Tigers,

I join you in celebrating the extraordinary contributions of this evening's Faculty-Alumni Award recipients, the Distinguished Faculty Award recipient and the Distinguished Service Award recipient.

The Alumni Association's tradition of recognizing excellence started back in 1956 and continues today with this year's outstanding class of awardees. We come together this evening to express our admiration and appreciation for these faculty and alumni who have brought distinction upon themselves and our University.

Congratulations,
Todd McCubbin, Executive Director
Mizzou Alumni Association

Dear Fellow Alumni and Friends,

To be selected to receive a Faculty-Alumni Award is a tremendous honor and I am proud to extend my congratulations from the University of Missouri Alumni Association Governing Board on behalf of more than 260,000 alumni worldwide. We thank you for your contributions to the arts and sciences, to business and industry, and the support you have shown your University. Your achievements have brought honor to this University and make us all proud to be Tigers!

Congratulations,
Tracey E. Mershon, President
Mizzou Alumni Association

Dear Friends,

Tonight is a special evening for our University, the Alumni Association and this year's recipients. The honor they have brought to our alma mater makes them deserving recipients of these awards. We are pleased that so many of their colleagues, family and friends are able to join us tonight to see them receive their awards. These outstanding men and women make us proud to be Tigers.

Sincerely,
Tim Lewis, Chair

46TH ANNUAL FACULTY~ALUMNI AWARDS

RECOGNIZING THAT THE PEOPLE AND THEIR UNIVERSITY ARE INDIVISIBLE AND INSEPARABLE, AND RECOGNIZING THAT THE DISTINGUISHED ACHIEVEMENTS OF THE PEOPLE EARN DISTINCTION FOR THEMSELVES AND THEIR UNIVERSITY, WE THEREFORE DO DECLARE THE FOLLOWING PEOPLE AS POSSESSING, FURTHERING AND EXEMPLIFYING THOSE ACHIEVEMENTS WE CHERISH AND TO WHICH WE ASPIRE.

Faculty-Alumni Awards, begun in 1968 by the University of Missouri Alumni Association, recognize the achievements of faculty and alumni. Assistant, associate and full professors are considered for their work as teachers, researchers and administrators. Alumni are considered for their accomplishments in professional life and service to their community and alma mater.

Through the awards program, the University of Missouri Alumni Association expresses its pride and appreciation for these individuals and their service to higher education. It focuses attention not only on these outstanding persons and their accomplishments, but also on the vital relationship between faculty and alumni in promoting the best interests of the University.

Awardee biographies are also available online at www.mizzou.com under the “programs” tab.

Shawn Askinosie

AB '83, JD '89

FOUNDER AND CEO OF ASKINOSIE CHOCOLATE

Askinosie Chocolate, located in Springfield, Mo., is an award-winning, small-batch, bean-to-bar chocolate manufacturer, specializing in Authentic Single Origin and Direct Trade chocolate. CEO, Shawn Askinosie, founded Askinosie Chocolate after a successful criminal law career that lasted nearly 20 years. With only 14 full-time employees, Askinosie's goal is to make great chocolate, but their mission is to positively impact the lives of those around them in order to leave the world a better place than they found it. His social business model has been featured in numerous publications, including O, the Oprah Magazine, who said, "The philanthropically-minded chocolate entrepreneur aims to get students thinking about business ethics in a way that could have ripple effects for generations."

"We believe the social purpose of Askinosie Chocolate is to not only compensate our farmers fairly and treat them like the business partners they are, but to connect those farmers with our customers to build relationships of mutual understanding and appreciation, which makes our chocolate better and our business better."

- Co-founder of Lost & Found Grief Center for children
- Serves on the lay advisory committee of Assumption Abbey (a Trappist monastery in Ava, Mo.)
- Selected as the Mel Carnahan Fellow at Missouri State University's Public Affairs Academy, serves as adjunct professor of field studies in social entrepreneurship at Drury University
- Received the Business Leadership Award from the Specialty Food Association in 2013; winner of five soft Awards, 2009-2012; Silver Award from the London Academy of Chocolate in 2011
- Received an Honorary Doctorate of Public Affairs from Missouri State University in 2012

He and his wife, Caron, live in Springfield and have three daughters: Lawren, Candace and Sarah; and six grandchildren: Sydney, Sailor, Hanna, Faith, Ransom and Graham.

Marybeth Brown

PROFESSOR OF PHYSICAL THERAPY

Known as an industrious researcher, Marybeth Brown has contributed significantly to the scientific understanding of the aging process and physical therapy interventions with aging individuals. She was a successful researcher and teacher at Washington University and University of Southern California before joining Mizzou in 2001. She has secured funding from highly competitive sources such as the National Institutes of Health and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. With more than 90 publications to her credit, Brown has made enormous contributions to professional communities.

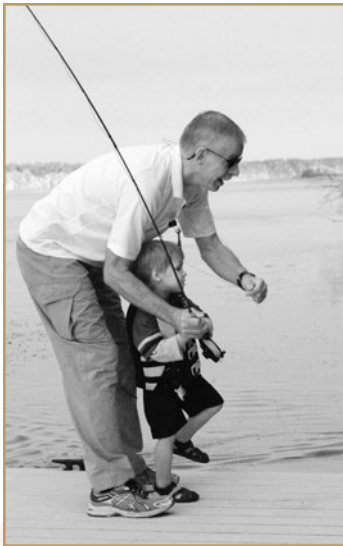

“Moving to Columbia and taking a job at Mizzou toward the latter phase of my career placed me in a situation that was completely unknown. I had a successful career at Wash U but did not know it was possible to achieve a similar level of success here at MU. I have thrived at this institution and have loved every year I’ve been on campus. Thus, to be recognized as having made significant contributions to Mizzou is incredibly meaningful.”

- Received the Distinguished Alumnus Award from Russell Sage College in 2011
- Received the Distinguished Alumnus Award from University of Southern California Division of Biokinesiology and Physical Therapy in 2008
- Elected fellow of the American College of Sports Medicine in 1988 and Catherine Worthingham Fellow of the American Physical Therapy Association in 2001
- Received the Marion Williams Award for Research from the American Physical Therapy Association in 1996
- Served as a reviewer for 13 professional journals, including the Journal of Applied Physiology

She and her partner, Eileen Hasser, live in Sturgeon, Mo.

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF INTERNATIONAL HEALTH
PROFESSOR OF INTERNAL MEDICINE

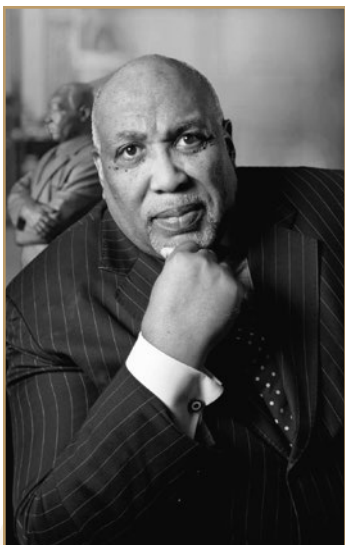

Each year more than 500 University of Nebraska Medical students attend an international experience and more than 500 foreign students attend UNMC through exchange programs directed by Chambers. He has made 19 trips to Afghanistan since 2002, working with Kabul Medical University to develop an educational partnership, provide medical care and train medical staff. A practicing cardiologist, Chambers joined UNMC in 1989 and has held numerous clinical faculty administrative roles, including executive director of community and multicultural affairs and president of University Medical Associates. He currently is the Executive Director of International Health and Medical Education. A dedicated mentor to underprivileged teenagers in his community, Chambers helped initiate a program at Mizzou, the Chambers Diversity Leadership Academy, to mentor engineering students. He also funds two minority engineering scholarships.

“I always try to: 1) Adhere to the Golden Rule; 2) Develop people who work in my units; 3) Be open to change. ‘In times of change, learners inherit the earth, while the learned shall find themselves perfectly suited for a world that no longer exists.’ –Eric Hoffer; and 4) Spend more time with my family.”

- Received the Internal Medicine Top Teacher Award from UNMC in 2009-2010 and the Ak-Sar-Ben Court of Honor in 2010
- Received the Medal of Honor for Distinguished Service in Engineering from the MU College of Engineering in 2010

- Received the Distinguished Alumni Award from MU’s College of Arts & Science in 2004

He lives in Orlando, Fla.

“With this faith, we will be able to hew out of the mountain of despair a stone of hope. With this faith, we will be able to transform the jangling discords of our nation into a beautiful symphony of brotherhood. With this faith, we will be able to work together, to pray together, to struggle together, to go to jail together, to stand up for freedom together, knowing that we will be free one day.”—Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr.

ATTORNEY AND SHAREHOLDER, POLSINELLI, PC

Jay M. Dade is an experienced labor and employment lawyer who counsels clients on day-to-day personnel management and union management issues at the national law firm of Polsinelli, PC in Springfield, Mo. He has represented employers before the EEOC, National Labor Relations Board, U.S. Department of Labor, U.S. Occupational Health & Safety Administration, Missouri State Board of Mediation, the National Association of Securities Dealers and numerous state and local human rights agencies nationwide and has also represented employers in federal and state courts. He is a contributing editor for The Developing Labor Law. Major Garrett

BJ '84, BA '84

CHIEF WHITE HOUSE CORRESPONDENT, CBS NEWS

One of the most respected journalists working today, Major Garrett has been a fixture for the past 15 years on network and cable stations including CBS News, Fox News and CNN. As a White House Correspondent, he has covered three presidents and numerous historical events including the California recall election, the D.C. sniper attack and the war in Iraq. He also writes a widely-read weekly column for the National Journal. Previously, Garrett was a senior editor and congressional correspondent for U.S. News and World Report and an award-winning reporter across the country for Houston Post, Las Vegas Review Journal and Amarillo Globe-News.

“My favorite quote is:
‘Nothing is at last sacred but the integrity of your own mind. Absolve you to yourself and you shall have the suffrage of the world.’”
—Ralph Waldo Emerson

- Appears regularly on the “CBS Evening News with Scott Pelley”, CBS’s “This Morning” from both Studio 57 and the field; substitutes as anchor of CBS’s “Face the Nation” and nominated for an Emmy for CBS’s coverage of the Sandy Hook shooting

He lives in Washington, D.C., and has three children: Mary Ellen, Luke and Audrey.

Steven W. Keller

ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF CHEMISTRY
ASSOCIATE DIRECTOR OF THE HONORS COLLEGE

Widely reputed as a challenging and beloved teacher, Steven Keller invests his lectures with tremendous creativity, enthusiasm and humanity and holds extra review sessions outside class time. Last year he joined the Honors College and has helped overhaul the college's two-semester science sequence. He initiated a new program called "Honor's Circles," bringing honors students and faculty together monthly for dinner and conversation. In addition he is a researcher with more than 40 refereed publications. The thread running through his research projects is assembling molecular species into extended solids to create new, fundamentally interesting and technologically useful materials.

"Challenge everyone and make sure that each student has access to as many helpful resources as possible. That is the philosophy I have tried to employ in all of my courses. I write hard exams not because I want students to feel discouraged, but because I want a good score to mean something."

- Co-author of the sixth and seventh editions of Chemistry in Context: Applying Chemistry to Society, the best-selling textbook for "non-science major" chemistry courses in the country
- Received the "Professor of the Year" Award from the MU Department of Athletics in 2012

PRESIDENT & CEO

With a unique background combining science, pharmaceutical industry experience, and a network of contacts throughout healthcare, Klein created Klein & Company, a medical education and communications company for the biopharmaceutical industry, in 2002. Within four years she grew it into a multi-million dollar company that won the “Top 25 Under 25” award in Kansas City in 2006 and “Kansas Woman-Owned Business of the Year–Professional Service Firm” from the Kansas Department of Commerce in 2010. She has held clinical, research and academic positions in a variety of settings. Klein serves on the Dean’s Advisory Board for Mizzou’s Sinclair School of Nursing, and received the school’s Citation of Merit award in 2013.

“My favorite quote, personal belief and mantra: ‘At some point in life, everyone needs a nurse.’ My business philosophy comes from entrepreneur and pharmaceutical leader, Ewing Kauffman, who founded Marion Laboratories: ‘Those who produce will share in the wealth’, ‘Treat others as you want to be treated’, ‘Give back to society. These values were ingrained in all associates who worked for and with him, and became the founding principles of my company.’”

- First nurse at Kansas City Veterans Administration Medical Center to have joint appointment at the University of Kansas School of Nursing
- Received Local & Regional Nurse of the Year award from KCVAMC in 1985
- Received a Leadership Award from Hoescht Marion Roussel in 1999
- Former president of the IAET (now Wound, Ostomy, Continence Nurses Association)
- Nightingale Society member
- Member, Mizzou Alumni Association

She and her husband, Dave, live in Sarasota, Fla. They have two children: Justin and Emily; and three grandchildren: Annabelle Grace, Emmalin Jeanne and Mae Scott.

ASSOCIATE DEAN FOR UNDERGRADUATE STUDIES AND ADMINISTRATION

CHAIR OF CONVERGENCE JOURNALISM FACULTY

Known as an innovator dedicated to students, Kraxberger joined Missouri in 1993 as the executive producer of KOMU-TV in Mizzou's School of Journalism. Since 2005, she has coached students on multi-platform and multimedia storytelling for distribution through the School's professional news organizations: the Columbia Missourian, KBIA-FM and KOMU-TV. She co-created the curriculum in convergence journalism, a blend of new delivery platforms and multimedia storytelling methods. In 2011, she led the effort to create a blended online and face-to-face learning environment for teaching all journalism students the basics of multimedia journalism. Kraxberger's roots as a newscast producer at KCNC-TV in Denver and WJXT-TV in Jacksonville, Fla., shaped her interest in visual storytelling. Her current interests are in the emerging areas of mobile journalism, social media and data-driven reporting.

"From the 7 Habits of Highly Effective People book, I use, 'first things first.' It reminds me that I cannot be of great benefit to anyone if I am not entirely focused on the task at hand. It also means that I need to make time for the kind of longer range planning necessary to have vision about larger issues on the horizon. I take this to heart in both my personal life and my work life."

- Received two of the University of Missouri and School of Journalism's highest teaching awards: the MU William T. Kemper Fellowship for Teaching Excellence in 2007 and the School's O.O. McIntyre Fellowship in 2006
- Received the Edward R. Murrow National Overall Excellence Award for KOMU-TV in 1993
- Member of Friends of the Garden, supporting Mizzou's Botanic Gardens
- Member, Mizzou Alumni Association

She and her daughter, Lily, live in Columbia.

Michael L. LeFevre BS EE '75, MD '79, MSPH '84

FUTURE OF FAMILY MEDICINE PROFESSOR
VICE CHAIRMAN OF FAMILY AND COMMUNITY MEDICINE

As medical director of MU's family and community medicine department, LeFevre oversees eight practices with more than 90,000 outpatient visits annually. As chief medical information officer for MU Health Care, he has helped lead the electronic health record project for the university's hospitals and clinics. A member of the MU faculty since 1984, he teaches residents and medical students and maintains an active practice. LeFevre was co-chair of the committee that led the transition to problem-based curriculum for the first two years of medical school rather than traditional classroom lectures. LeFevre has served on several key national committees, task forces and panels, and is currently serving as co-vice chair of the United States Preventive Services Task Force.

"At the center of the universe is a loving heart that continues to beat and that wants the best for every person. Anything we can do to help foster the intellect and spirit and emotional growth of our fellow human beings — that is our job. Those of us who have this particular vision must continue against all odds. Life is for service." —Fred Rogers

- Elected to the Institute of Medicine of the National Academies in 2011
- Received the Distinguished Service Award from the MU Medical Alumni Association in 2010
- Received the Dean's Award for Outstanding Achievement in Medical School in 1979
- Jefferson Club member

He and his wife, Judith, BS Ed '75, live in Columbia. They have three children: Nicholas, MD '13; Rachel LeFevre-Snee; and Kara LeFevre Braudis, BS '02, MD '07; and two grandchildren: Syler and Jonah Braudis.

Pat Okker

PROFESSOR OF ENGLISH

An MU faculty member since 1990, Okker teaches nineteenth-century American literature, with special emphasis on American periodicals. She is the author of Our Sister Editors: Sarah J. Hale and the Tradition of Nineteenth-Century Women Editors (University of Georgia Press, 1995) and Social Stories: The Magazine Novel in Nineteenth-Century America (University of Virginia Press, 2003). She is also editor of Transnationalism and American Serial Fiction (Routledge, 2011), a collection of essays on serial fiction published in U.S. periodicals in ten different languages. As chair of MU's English Department for six years, she led efforts to increase interdisciplinary research and teaching, established the first departmental alumni board and significantly increased student participation in study abroad, internships and career exploration opportunities, and honors theses. She currently serves as Faculty Fellow in the Office of the Provost and works on campus-wide program assessment and issues related to accreditation.

“Keep learning. I believe that life is richer and more meaningful when we give ourselves the time and space to be novices, to learn about or learn to do something new. I hope I always have some new project or activity to explore — whether it’s learning to do a cartwheel or to speak Italian.”

- Serves as chair of the University’s Strategic Planning and Resource Advisory Council, charged with formulating and implementing the university’s strategic plans
- Received the William T. Kemper Fellowship for Teaching Excellence in 2003
- Member, Mizzou Alumni Association

She and her husband, Richard Edging, live in Columbia. They have two children: Kate and Jack.

GROUP PRESIDENT AND EXECUTIVE OFFICE MEMBER
CATERPILLAR, INC.

As a member of Caterpillar's leadership, Rapp has administrative responsibility for Construction Industries, which includes the Earthmoving, Excavation, Building Construction Products, China Operations, Europe/South America Operations and the Global Construction & Infrastructure Divisions. Since joining Caterpillar as a pricing analyst in 1979, throughout his career Rapp has held positions related to pricing, production scheduling, marketing, dealer development, manufacturing, product development, finance, HR, IT and purchasing. He was named group president in 2007 and CFO in 2010 before taking over as group president of Construction Industries at the beginning of 2013. His positions have led Ed and his family to some interesting parts of the world including Peoria, San Francisco, Johannesburg, Geneva, Raleigh and Singapore.

"As a leader, my view is we have two responsibilities: leave the business better than we found it, and in more capable hands. Our family vision statement is, 'We will positively impact the people and responsibilities experienced throughout life'" and I work hard to strike the balance – having a great family and great career. And, no matter where I am or what I do, I never forget I hail from Pilot Grove, Missouri and I am a Mizzou Tiger."

- Member of the board of directors of Abbvie, FMGlobal and the Junior Achievement (J.A.) USA
- Appointed by the White House as one of three Americans to represent the US on the APEC Business Advisory Council (ABAC).
- Serves on the Strategic Development Board of Mizzou's Trulaske College of Business

Steven C. Zweig

MD '79, MSPH '84

PAUL REVARE, MD FAMILY ENDOWED PROFESSOR
CHAIR OF FAMILY AND COMMUNITY MEDICINE

Other than a sabbatical in 1996 to study geriatrics in New York City, Zweig has spent his entire academic career at MU and has served as family physician to members of this community for more than 30 years. A strong, enthusiastic leader, he is currently the director of the MU Interdisciplinary Center on Aging and has led the School of Medicine's clinical programs in geriatrics since 1997. Zweig has been principal investigator on grants totaling over $6.6 million in external funding to MU. He is also on the Executive and Management Committees of University Physicians and the Vice Chancellor's Clinical Advisory Group and is on the board of the national Association of Departments of Family Medicine.

“My personal motto is, ‘Never give up.’ My parents, neither of whom was able to go to college, have been my life mentors as I have strived to be both a visionary (from my father) and a problem-solver (from my mother). My goal is to ensure that each person has a personal physician who will stick with them until the end of their life. That physician’s role is to help each person realize their unique potential and, when needed, to relieve suffering.”

- Received the Outstanding Young Physician Award from the MU School of Medicine Alumni Organization in 1998
- Received the Jane Hickman Teaching Award from the MU School of Medicine in 2004
- Jefferson Club Very Distinguished Fellow
- Life Member, Mizzou Alumni Association

PROFESSOR AND DEPARTMENT CHAIR OF ARCHITECTURAL STUDIES

“Confucius lived a half a world away and centuries ago when he said, ‘I live in a very small house but my windows look out on a very large world.’ This is my story. I come from a small Missouri River town and am blessed by the powerful influence of Mizzou lessons and mentors to make a difference in our world.”

Distinguished Faculty Award

54TH ANNUAL DISTINGUISHED FACULTY AWARD

THIS AWARD, THE HIGHEST HONOR THAT THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PRESENTS TO A FACULTY MEMBER, WAS ESTABLISHED IN 1960.

IT RECOGNIZES A FACULTY MEMBER WHOSE SUSTAINED EFFORTS IN TEACHING, RESEARCH AND SERVICE HAVE ADDED TO THE EXCELLENCE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI.

THE AWARD ALSO PLACES SPECIAL EMPHASIS ON THE FACULTY MEMBER’S RELATIONSHIP WITH STUDENTS.

Just four years after joining MU as an energetic young faculty member, Dr. Tofle was named chair of her department in 1984. Since then she has led the department to national recognition. One of the first-ever accredited interior design programs, it was named a Top 10 program and “4th Most Admired Graduate Program in Interior Design in the U.S.” by DesignIntelligence, a publication of the Design Futures Council. She led her department in developing the first and still only online doctoral program in interior design. Her research interests are in environmental gerontology, place attachment, and historic preservation. Following graduate work at the University of Minnesota, she co-published and edited journals and books including Aging, Autonomy, and Architecture: Advances in Assisted Living, Popular American Housing, and Color in Health Care Environments. Respected in academia and in practice, she is a Center for Aging Fellow, NCIDQ-certified, a LEED Accredited Professional, and a Registered Commercial Interior Designer in the State of Missouri. For 15 years, Ruth chaired MU’s Campus Planning Committee for Facilities and Grounds and was a constant in guiding the campus to become the beautiful, well-designed place it is today. Born and raised in Washington, Missouri, her work is recognized worldwide. She received a post doctorate fellowship from the National Institutes of Mental Health, the American Society of Interior Designers Environmental Design Award, and Fulbright Fellowships to China, Morocco and Tunisia. She participated in faculty exchanges in Thailand and Korea and was President of the Missouri Fulbright Alumni Association. An early advocate for

ADA and universal design, Ruth received the Faculty Friend Award from the MU Access Office for her efforts in accommodating students with disabilities.

- Fulbright Fellow for Chinese History and Culture in People’s Republic of China in 1988

58TH ANNUAL DISTINGUISHED SERVICE AWARD

THIS AWARD, THE HIGHEST HONOR THAT THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI ALUMNI ASSOCIATION PRESENTS TO AN INDIVIDUAL, WAS ESTABLISHED IN 1956.

IT RECOGNIZES OUTSTANDING SERVICE BY AN INDIVIDUAL WHOSE SUSTAINED EFFORTS AND SUPPORT HAVE ADDED TO THE EXCELLENCE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF MISSOURI.

Distinguished Service Award

A recognized management scholar and innovator, Hook is a retired insurance executive and creator of Model-Netics® the language of management, and the Main Event Management® systems. He currently works as founder and president of Main Event Management Corporation. Hook's career supports the MEMC idea that outstanding leaders are capable of both a fast start and sustained long-term performance. In his 40-year career in life insurance and financial services, from which he retired in 1997, Hook earned the distinction of having served as president of three major unaffiliated life insurance companies before the age of 40. His first presidency was at age 31, when he became the youngest life insurance company president in the United States. He spent more than 30 years as a chief executive officer; the last 18 years as Chairman and CEO of American General Corporation. While at AG, he implemented the MEMC management systems and Model-Netics, and he is credited with developing American General Corporation into one of the largest diversified financial services organizations in the United States. Under his leadership, assets increased from $6 billion to $66 billion, and shareholders' equity grew from $916 million to $5.6 billion. AGC was acquired by American International Group (AIG) in 2001 in a transaction valued at over $23 billion.

- Recipient of Faculty-Alumni Award from the Mizzou Alumni Association in 1978
- Served three years active duty on a minesweeper in the U.S. Atlantic Fleet as an executive officer/navigator

- Received Honorary Doctor of Law degrees from Mizzou and Westminster College in Fulton, Mo. in 1983
- Received the Oxford Cup from Beta Theta Pi fraternity in 1992
- Earned the title "Distinguished Eagle Scout" in 1976 and later served as the Boy Scouts of America's national president from 1988-1990
- Former chairman of the Houston Chamber of Commerce and board member of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce
- Has served on the board of trustees for the Baylor College of Medicine since 1977
- Inducted into the Texas Business Hall of Fame in 1998
- Former outside director of the following New York Stock Exchange firms: Chase Manhattan Bank, Continental Airlines, Cooper Industries, Inc., Duke Energy Corporation, Panhandle Eastern Corporation, Sprint Corporation, and Texas Commerce Bancshares
- Jefferson Club Ambassador; Life Member, Mizzou Alumni Association

He and his wife, Joanne Hunt Hook, BS Ed '55, live in Houston. They have three children: Karen, Thomas and Randall; and five grandchildren: James, David, Townsend, Matthew and Elizabeth.

Guideposts to Excellence

DISCOVERY ~ DIVERSITY ~ PRIDE ~ RESPECT
RESPONSIBILITY ~ TRADITION

Much like the stones which give strength to six beloved Columns, these six values are supported only by the degree of excellence which they embody.

The Mizzou Alumni Association recognizes the special worth that the pursuit of excellence creates and strives to bond our alumni together using excellence as the foundation.

Old Missouri

Old Missouri, fair Missouri!
Dear Old Varsity,
Ours are hearts that fondly love thee.
Here's a health to thee!

Every student, man and maiden,
Swells the glad refrain,
'Till the breezes, music laden,
Waft it back again.

CHORUS:

Proud art thou in classic beauty
Of thy noble past.
With thy watch words, honor, duty,
Thy high fame shall last.

MIZZOU  ALUMNI
ASSOCIATION TM
